WHY SCOTTISH RENEWABLES?

Scottish Renewables is the voice of Scotland's renewable energy industry.

Our vision is for a Scotland leading the world in renewable energy.

We work to grow Scotland's renewable energy sector and sustain its position at the forefront of the global clean energy industry.

The industry we represent delivers investment, jobs, social benefits and reduces the carbon emissions which cause climate change.

We work closely with our members and key stakeholders to:

- ✓ Lead thinking on the main opportunities and challenges for the sector
- ✓ Encourage the optimum conditions for the growth of renewables
- ✓ Ensure renewable energy technology is at the forefront of the energy transition
- ✓ Enable local supply chain companies striving to deliver renewable energy projects across Scotland, the UK and beyond
- ✓ Inform policy makers and stakeholders about renewable energy in our society, economy and environment

We invite you to join our business network and make your voice heard through the work that the team at Scottish Renewables does on behalf of our members.

- Celebrate and showcase your supply chain success through our annual Supply Chain Impact Statement

PUBLIC AFFAIRS

Political audiences such as Ministers, MSPs and MPs understand that supporting the renewable energy sector and its supply chain is important and they want to help. Scottish Renewables advocates for our members by guiding politicians on key issues and solutions.

Political successes from our supply chain activities include the announcement of a Green Industrial Strategy and £500 million for the offshore wind supply chain from the Scottish Government, both of which Scottish Renewables continuously campaigned for.

Our public affairs work to represent the Scottish renewable energy sector and supply chain includes:

- Distilling our members views and challenges into campaigns to ensure that politicians understand the needs of the businesses in Scotland
- Ensuring our members are represented to UK and Scottish political parties by responding to parliamentary committee calls for evidence, giving evidence at committee meetings and attending political party conferences

- Including sector priorities in our manifestos and budget submissions ahead of political events, such as Scottish and UK Parliament elections, to ensure political parties can reflect industry views in their own manifestos and governments can take action towards suitable solutions
- Providing a platform for our members to meet with Ministers and MSPs, through hosting roundtables, breakfast briefings, political visits, parliamentary receptions and our annual Supply Chain Dinner, to ensure they are well informed about the needs of the renewable energy sector

EVENTS

Scottish Renewables hosts events to facilitate knowledge sharing, industry connections and celebrate businesses across the sector.

We attend UK and international conferences to represent our members and communicate the successes of the organisations who are successfully developing, constructing and operating green energy projects.

Members can get involved in our events activity in many ways:

- Share your perspective and raise visibility by becoming a panellist at our conferences
- Attend or co-host member-only events
- Delve into detail and learn more about the sector at our seminars
- Set the standard of excellence by submitting nominations for our awards
- Meet buyers and fellow suppliers through our business development focused sessions
- Attend our member-only parliamentary breakfasts and receptions for access to high-level audiences
- Learn about the minutiae at our Policy Update Webinars designed and hosted by our policy experts to keep members up to date with key developments in the sector
- Showcase your services at our industry exhibitions, or build brand awareness through sponsorship
- Inform SR activity at our Supply Chain Engage roundtables
